

HEAFT

Your coach. Every set.

An AI coach that plans your week, runs the session with you, and adapts to what you actually lifted.

HEAD OF COMMUNITY

The first users, the gym floor, the feedback loop.

Tickets, sprints, specs, code review, deploys. A real product team.

Two people. The same missing thing.

THE BEGINNER

Walks in without a plan

They do not know what to do once they are through the door, so they copy exercises off a screen one at a time, with no structure holding them together.

THE EXPERIENCED LIFTER

Knows how to train, tracks into four places

The technique is not the problem. Whether the training is actually working is — and the answer is scattered across a notebook, an app and a memory.

Different problems, one missing piece: a coach. A personal trainer solves it — and prices almost everyone out. 63 of every 100 who join are gone before month three.

Tell it your goal. It coaches the rest.

STEP ONE

Plan

You tell it your goal, your experience, and the equipment you can actually reach. It writes the week.

STEP TWO

Train

It stays with you through the session: log the set, it runs your rest and tells you what is next.

STEP THREE

Adapt

It learns what you really lifted, not what it planned. Next week changes to match.

Plan. Train. Learn. Adapt. Every week it knows a little more about you than the week before.

Three things that matter. One app has all three.

A human coach is €200 a month. Everyone cheaper than that stopped short of coaching you.

€3B in Europe. €6M is ours.

EUROPE

€3B

75 million gym members across the continent.

SPAIN

€300M

3 million people start every year. Beginners are the whole opportunity.

OURS

€6M

150,000 subscribers — five per cent of one year of Spanish beginners.

Running already earns €340M a year through Strava alone. The gym is still open.

It is built. This is it running.

iOS and Android, live today. Plans, live sessions, nutrition targets and a weekly league — not a prototype.

Creators are a partnership, not an advertising spend. Their communities get coaching that would cost far more from a trainer.

Nobody is paid in year one. Two of us in year two, all seven in year three — that is why the profit line dips before it climbs. No tax calculated.

Where every euro goes.

Year three, twelve months. Seven salaries of €23,600 each.

A fifth stays in the company for what we build next.

You bring the passion.
We bring the plan.
